

THE LONGRIDERS CREED

Written by

The long road ahead, well known to some
Few consider it hard work, most others more fun
But metal and rubber, belts, pulleys and grit
All make up our rides, American muscle or Brit
So why do we muster, assemble and ride?
Is it our Christian faith, brotherhood or pride?
It's all of these things, but our ministry shines through
It's a special mission, for us chosen and few
In our daily lives, we are prone to reflect
On humanities purpose, with which we respect.
To challenge the fearful, the timid, the oppressed,
To embrace God's life, for in Him we are all blessed.
With our Lord in our hearts, this is our destined life
But what of our friends, our partners, our wife?
Well they understand, as often we've seen
But it does not stop asking "where on earth have you been?"
Never fear my love, it's a truth we all know
For we are the LONGRIDERS, with our brothers we go
To Newcastle, Mt Gambier, then onto Murray Bridge
Back to Adelaide and Melbourne, a welcome beer in the fridge
At times we reflect, to brothers fallen or lost
We pray for them always, without fear of the cost
Like brothers before and many brothers to come
We stand strong as LONGRIDERS, with just a little fun
So to all those who wonder, or question or sneer
Tell them we do this in God's faith, for with him there is no fear.
